Abridged and collected by Richard Grafton.

Imprinted at London, by Iohn Kingston.

this booke.

A kalender with an Almanack for.xlii. yeres.

The Epistle dedicatory.
An Epistle to the Reader.

The Abridgement of the Chronicles of England, from the begynnyng of the worlde to this our tyme.

A note of the chefe Faires that are kept in England, with their dayes and tymes.

A large Table whereby ye maye turne to all the chefe and principall matters in this boke, but not to euery mānes name that is conteyned therin, for that would haue made a Table almost as great as the booke.

Thys yere of our Lorde

Note that in the former kalender are set forth in euery Moneth those euell and infortunate dayes, that are noted by the Astronomers, whiche are marked with this signe ✳. And soche dayes as are not altogether so euell are marked thus. ○.

In the sayd kalender also is the true entry of the Sonne into the celestial Signes euery Moneth and the true dayes of the beginnyng and endyng of the Terme, and also the Ides and Kalendas plainly set forth, with declaracion when the Sonne is highest when lowest, as in the same more plainly may appere.

TO HIS LOVING FRENDES the Maister and Wardeins of the compane of the moste excellent Arte and science of Imprintyng.

WE beloued brethren & frenders, I haue dedicated this my litle boke vnto you, called the Manuell of the Chronicles of Englande, and chiefly for .iii. causes. The first is to desier you to be the Patrones of thesame: that when God shall call me out of this transitorie life, that ye will take and vse this copie or booke to the commoditie & benefite of your whole companie, to whō I willingly geue and offer thesame, and to title thesame booke in this wise The Manuell of the Chronicles of Englande, Imprinted by the Companie and felowship of the Stacioners, with Additions as the tyme shall require.

The seconde cause is, that then you beyng Patrones herof, will I doubte not haue soche respect and regard ther-

vnto, as from tyme to tyme ye will see thesame so cleanely wrought and with diligence corrected, as maie bee for the aduaūcement of your awne praise and commendaciō. And lastly, that ye will by your discrete wisedomes take soche order with your whole company, that there be no brief abridgementes of Manuels of Chronicles hereafter Imprinted: but onely this litle boke, with soch addicions, as from tyme to tyme shall seme to you good, or els soche as you together, with thassent of the aunciенtes of your companie, shall allowe and approue, to thentent that the Quenes
maiesties subiectes, which couet suche litle collecciōs, for the helpyng of their memory maie not be abused, as heretofore thei haue been. And thus I ende with a small & short Epistle, according to the proposicion of my boke, and wishe
vnto you, and euery of you, encrease
of wealth and worshippe.

Yours during his life
Richard Grafton.

GEntle Reader, I haue in this smal volume abridged my former Abridgemente of Chronicles, to thintēt the same should be more portatiue & also to be sold at a meane & small price. And although I haue omitted some matters, contained in my former Abridgemente, and also haue touched some other with very fewe woordes, yet haue I not omitted any speciall note, that was in my former boke: and moreouer I haue added hereunto the authors and maters of diuers thinges, whiche in my former booke was not touched: as ye mais perceiue in that I begin this my brief collection, from the beginnyng of the woylde, farced with suche short good notes, as I truste will delight the reader. And in this volume also I haue vsed to nomber the yeres of our Loade, and of the kynges in plaine nombers, and not in Figures, for the helpe of suche as are not acquainted with the vse of Figures.

des. But I knowlege and cõfesse, that there is in me neither the learning nor eloquence, that is requisite for a writer or collector of histories: but as by this my enterprise, I trust I shall geue occasion to those of better skill, to amẽde herein that is amisse, so I hope that none will shewe them selues so vngentle, nor so vnkendly, as to abuse me in this my litle labour and good will, as of late I was abused by one that counterfeacted my volume and order of the Abridgemente of the Chronicles, and hath made my trouble to passe vnder his name also, by omitting some thynges of myne, and worse put in place, and by alteration of some thynges and by addicion of some other, whiche kind of dealyng is not commendable. But paraduenture it will be laied vnto me, that moste of the matters contained in my saied former Abridgemente, were collected by me out of others þ were before me: I graunte it to be true, but yet he that gathereth flowers, & maketh a Nosegaie, is worthie of some commendacion for his paines, although another persone might haue come into the same grounde or gardein, & haue gathred them as well as he, and peradventure might haue decked his Nosegaie with flowers, that the firste lacked: but the same beyng doone to the greate iniurie and wronge, not onely of me the firste gatherer, but also to the hindraunce and losse of the Printer of my Abridgement: I thinke the graue and wise, will not iudge well of it. But nowe louyng and gentle reader, I beseche thee to suffer this my litle volume and briefe collection, to remain in my simple maner, as I offer it vnto thee, and ceasse any more to enter into my labours and inuencions, except of thyne owne good and gētle nature, thou wilt amende therein that is not well, and in so doyng, I will yelde vnto thee my moste harties thākes. Fare.

Note, that in this booke ye shall finde twoo nombers, with a strike in the middes. The vpper nomber signifieth the yeres of the worlde, and the neither nomber signifie the yeres before Christ, and so it continueth vntill the commyng of Christe: and then the vpper nomber signifieth the yeres of Christe, and the nether nomber, the yeres of the reigne of euery kyng, as for example.

¶ A rule to knowe when the Terme beginneth and endeth.

Eight daies before any Terme be the Exchequer openeth for a certentie, except Trinitie Terme euer= nermore. And then it openeth but fofwer daies before.

Easter Terme beginneth alwaies
eightene daies after Easter, reconyng Easter daie for one, and endeth the Mondaie after the Assencion daie.

Trinitie Terme beginneth twelue
daies after Whitsondaie, & continueth
nynetene daies.

Michelmas Terme beginneth the
x. or. x. daie of October, and endeth
the. xxviii. or. xxix. daie of November.

Hilary Terme beginneth the. xviii daie of January and endeth the. xii. or
xi. daie of Febzuary.

THE greatest, noblest, and worthiest matter to bee chronicled is, that God almightie in the beginnyng made of nothing, Heauen, Earth, Sea, and all thynges that are contained in them.

At thesame time also God created to his owne Image, the first Man of a clodde of claie, and named hym Adam: and God castyng him into a slepe, toke out a ribbe of his side, and therof made the first woman, to bee a helper vnto Man, and named her Eue.

And as some suppose, the first daie of the creatiõ of the worlde, was thesame daie, that we call now the .xxv. daie of Marche, and on the self same daie also was our Sauiour Christ conceiued of the virgine Mary.

Cain the first begottẽ sonne of Adam, was also the first Murderer and slewe his brother

a. l. Abell.

Abel. And he also builded the first citie in the Orient, and named it Enoch, after the name of his first begottē sonne.

In this time Juball the sōne of Lamech, first made the portatiue Tētes.

Thuball his brother first inuented Musicke, by the strokes and noyes of the hammers of his brother Tubalcaim, whiche was a Smith.

Tubalcaim their brother, did firste finde out the melting of Metralls, and the workmanship of thesame.

Noema a woman, the daughter of Lamech by his seconde wife, named Silla, did first find out the vse of wolle and the Carding, Spinning, & Dyeslyng of thesame.

And in the.vi.C. yere of his life, & the.xvii. date of the second Moneth began the flood, and it ceassed the the.xx. date of the same Moneth in the yere folowyng. And as thei then liued muche longer then we doe now, so is it true that thei had farre greater bodies then we haue now. For S. Augustin writeth, that he sawe in Utica the Cheke tothe of a man, that might haue made an hundreth of our teethe. And I the writer hereof did see, the.x. date of Marche, in the yere of our lord M.D.xiiii. and had the same in my hande, the tothe of a man, whiche weyed.x. vnces of Troy weight. And the skull of the same man is extant and to be seen, whiche will holde fiue peckes of wheate. And the shinne bone of the same man is.vi. foote in length, and of a meruelous greatnesse.
